

CHENREZIG INSTITUTE

A Centre for Tibetan Buddhist teachings, meditation, retreat and practice

Madhyamakavatara

Starting mid 2012

Part of the FPMT Masters Programme

After three successful rounds of the FPMT Basic Programme, Chenrezig Institute will offer in-depth study of the Masters Programme subject Supplement to *Treatise on the Middle Way (Madhyamakavatara) over 18 months in 2012 and 2013 with Lharampa Geshe Lobsang Jamyang, interpreter Yaki Platt, and teaching assistant Ven. Lozang Tsewang (a BP graduate who has studied Middle Way extensively).

Teachings will be offered in modules of approx. 8 week intensives, interspersed with breaks to allow consolidation and reflection. A one-month guided retreat, required for Masters Programme qualification, completes the course of study.

All serious students are welcome.

FPMT Masters Programme admission criteria applies:

Previous study of lam-rim, Mind and Awareness, and Buddhist Tenets at Basic Program level are mandatory prerequisites. Mind and Awareness and Tenets will be offered at CI between December 2011 and June 2012; home-study modules (from CI, FPMT Inc., or ILTK) are other options to fulfil this requirement.

A minimum one-month lam-rim retreat; attendance at an annual Kopan Course and/or a retreat with Lama Zopa Rinpoche is highly recommended.

Reasonable course fees are charged to lay students and packages including food and accommodation are available at the centre. The centre sponsors course fees for Sangha who are also offered lunch every day and are welcome to apply for accommodation within the centre's Sangha communities.
